City Council and Staff recognizing Lt. Kevin Corbett's 25 Years of Service

Administration

This week staff welcomed back Julie Robinson as Director of Human Resources after four years away. In those four years while at Clermont County Public Library she continued to hone and develop her skills within the HR environment. As a resident of Loveland, with a dedicated passion to civil service, she will undoubtedly fit in well. We are excited to hit the ground running with her as part of our team.

At the City Council meeting on Tuesday, we recognized Lt. Kevin Corbett for his 25 years of dedicated service to the City of Loveland. Lt. Corbett joined the City of Loveland Police Department in 1999 as an officer. In 2013, he was promoted to Sergeant, and further promoted to Lieutenant in 2017. Lt. Corbett is in charge of criminal investigations, fleet management, school resource officers, the property room and the Axon in-car and body worn cameras. Over the years he has received several awards including 2007 Clermont Co. Traffic Officer of the Year, 2008 MADD Top Cop, and 2012 Clermont Co. Investigator of the Year. Lt. Corbett is without a doubt, an extremely valuable asset to the department, as well as our community.

The Loveland U session on Wednesday was held at the Loveland Safety Center, hosted by the Loveland PD. The class members were able to experience a K9 demonstration, learn about crime scene processing, and participated in a MILO video based simulation training for critical incident training, de-escalation, decision support training, tactical judgement training and firearms proficiency training.
