

City of Loveland

City Manager's Weekly Report

May 30, 2025

Monday, the community joined together to remember its Veterans during the annual Memorial Day Parade and Ceremony

Administration

City Council recognized the 10th anniversary of Plaid Room Records, owned by brothers Terry and Bob Cole. Since opening their doors, Plaid Room Records has become a destination for music lovers near and far. The store has brought energy and foot traffic to Historic Downtown Loveland, especially through popular events like Record Store Day. On Saturday, June 7, Plaid Room Records will celebrate this exciting milestone with a special anniversary event. Congratulations to Terry and Bob on ten successful years and thanks to them for their continued investment in and commitment to the Loveland community.

The city celebrated the graduation of the Spring 2025 Loveland University class with a special ceremony held at McCluskey Chevrolet's headquarters in the city's Commerce Park. Former Councilwoman Peggy Goodwin served as the guest speaker, sharing remarks about her passion for volunteering and what it has meant in her life. Mayor Kathy Bailey and Councilman Brian Goodyear were also in attendance to congratulate the graduates and present certificates. Over the years, I've seen this program foster stronger connections between residents and the city, and I look forward to seeing it continue.

Building and Zoning

Progress continues at Carrington Crossing, where framing, rough HVAC, and insulation inspections were completed at 210 Carrington as part of the restoration of the fire-damaged buildings at 210–220 Carrington. Additionally, a sign permit was issued for Heavenly Nails Spa, located at 683 Loveland Madeira Road.

Public Works

This week, Public Works staff brought a burst of color to City Hall by planting 228 vibrant New Guinea impatiens arranged in a heart shape and surrounding the City Hall sign, these vibrant flowers create a welcoming and cheerful display for all visitors.

Upcoming Meetings & Events

There are no meeting or city events scheduled for next week.