City's Annual Road Program Nearing Completion

Administration

Fencing was installed around the perimeter of the Navaho Tot Lot this week. The idea for the fencing was initiated by a local resident as a way to add safety for children playing in the park, which is adjacent to two streets. Thanks to the Loveland Legacy Foundation and Eads Fence for supporting this project through cost sharing and donation of materials.

Building and Zoning

Weekly update from the Building and Zoning Department:

- As part of their remodel, plans were received for alterations to the hood suppression system at Wendy's, 10601 Loveland Madeira Road. We also received the revisions to the menu board signs. Both sets of plans are in review.
- The Little Miami River Chamber Alliance received their tent permit for Oktoberfest. The tent will be located in Nisbet Park.
- St. George Russian Orthodox Church, 118 N. Lebanon Road, received a tent permit for their annual festival. Both that event and Oktoberfest are this weekend.
- The Loveland Stage Company, 111 S. 2nd Street. completed the installation of their long-awaited new HVAC system.
- Progress is being made on several new homes under construction throughout the city, including homes in Chimney Ridge, on Ruth Street, W. Main Street, and Lakeview Drive.

Public Works

On Tuesday, Public Works team member Shaun Tringelof visited the Children's First Academy on Loveland Madeira Road with a city dump truck to share with students the important role Public Works plays in our community. The children especially enjoyed climbing into the cab of the truck and learning about its different functions.

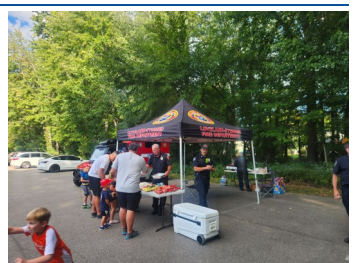

Staff also made improvements along East Loveland Avenue this week by placing riprap in the right-of-way to help protect the road from erosion.

Meanwhile, the City's Annual Road Program is nearing completion. This year's improvements included resurfacing and curb repairs in the Huntington and Reserves of Loveland subdivisions, the resurfacing of First Street, and several full-depth asphalt base repairs along Riverside Drive. The final phase of the program, Bares Creek, is scheduled to begin next.

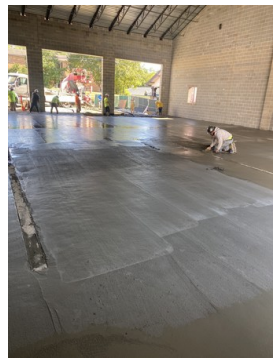

Public Safety

Wednesday, LSFD held their 2nd Community Cookout With Firefighters at McCoy Park. The event had a good crowd, including many kids that enjoyed meeting the firefighters and exploring the fire apparatus.

Also this week, the concrete floors were poured in the bays of the new Fire Station 63.
